Managed Services

Getting Marketo deployment and management right takes planning, focus, time and experts!

If your team has insufficient time after working on other business priorities or if you do not have an in-house marketing team or dedicated resources to work for Marketo projects (including planning, building and deploying campaigns), get this flexible Marketo Managed Services (MMS) by Marrina Decisions to get you set up and efficiently running Marketo.

MMS is one of the key service offerings by Marrina Decisions that provides you with everything you need to get full value out of the Marketo platform.

Marrina Decisions Marketo Managed Services will help you with resources that will strategize, manage and implement your entire Marketo system.

Our Marketo Managed Services (MMS) provide you with a dedicated and professional team of Marketo Certified Experts (MCE) who will be available to support you in planning and executing any Marketo project, whether it is a single project or an entire end-to-end automation infrastructure build.

We have provided these services for thousands of Marketo clients and, based on your unique business needs, will map processes in Marketo to your overall business success, with scalability top of mind.
